

FINANCIAL REALITY FAIR™

Greetings from the Financial Reality Foundation! A big part of our mission is to promote financial literacy to young adults. It is our sincere hope that we can become an authentic partner with you in support of financial education efforts with your students.

There are a lot of financial education tools available to you and it has been our experience that most of them produce marginal results at best. Occasionally though, we come across one that has been tried by many organizations and proven to create fantastic results among the student participants - every time.

The details of such a financial literacy program are currently in your hands. The demands upon the Get REAL Financial Reality Fair host are minimal: provide a suitable space for approximately three hours and help as best you can with getting the word out. We will take care of the rest; which means administration, production and expenses.

In this packet you will find printed materials to help you understand WHAT A GET REAL FINANCIAL REALITY FAIR IS? We've included:

1. An Overview of our Get REAL Financial Reality Fair program
2. Actual Student Testimonials from past fairs
3. A sample budget sheet used during the fair

Another way to "see" what transpires ... visit our website at www.financialreality.org. Under the "About Us" section is a video that helps explain the fair concept.

We are excited about the potential partnership with you to bring this program to your students. Please contact Rebecca Sullivan, our Marketing Design Coordinator, from the information on the attached business card with any questions you have or to schedule a fair for this year!

Cooperatively,

Financial Reality Foundation
